A Journey Through Ethical Quandaries

Philosophical inquiry begins with the examination of ethical principles. In "81 Philosophical Dilemmas," you will encounter dilemmas that challenge your moral compass:

- The Trolley Problem: Should you sacrifice one person to save five?
- The Liar's Paradox: If a liar says "I am lying," is the statement true or false?
- The Euthanasia Debate: Is it ethically permissible to end a person's life to relieve their suffering?

Exploring Metaphysical Mysteries

Delve into the enigmatic realm of metaphysics, where questions about the nature of reality and existence take center stage:

- The Ship of Theseus: If you replace every plank on a ship, is it still the same ship?
- The Problem of Evil: If God is all-powerful and benevolent, why does evil exist?
- The Nature of Time: Is time an illusion, or does it objectively flow?

Confronting Epistemological Enigmas

Epistemology examines the foundations of knowledge and belief. "81 Philosophical Dilemmas" presents dilemmas that challenge our understanding of truth and certainty:

- The Skeptic's Trilemma: How can you prove that you are not dreaming?

- The Gettier Problem: Can you have justified true belief without knowledge?
- The Münchhausen Trilemma: How can you know that you know anything?
