Seventeen-year-old Eden Hayes has always been the good girl. She's the one who follows the rules, gets good grades, and never gets into trouble. But when her older brother is killed in a car accident, everything changes.

Eden is determined to find out who killed her brother, and she'll stop at nothing to get justice. Even if it means getting close to the one person she hates more than anyone else: Jaxon Rixon.

Jaxon Rixon is the school's bad boy. He's arrogant, reckless, and dangerous. But he's also the only person who seems to understand Eden's pain.

As Eden and Jaxon work together to find her brother's killer, they start to realize that they have more in common than they thought. They're both outsiders, both grieving, and both desperate for justice.

But as they get closer, they also start to realize that they can't deny the attraction between them. And soon, their enemies to lovers romance turns into something more dangerous than either of them could have ever imagined.
