ICIAP 2024 will focus on the theme of "Image Analysis and Processing for a Sustainable Future." This theme reflects the growing importance of visual data in various fields, including healthcare, environmental monitoring, manufacturing, and transportation. The conference will feature a wide range of topics, including:

- Image acquisition and preprocessing

- Image segmentation and object detection
- Image classification and recognition
- Image enhancement and restoration
- Image analysis for medical applications
- Image analysis for environmental monitoring
- Image analysis for manufacturing and transportation

Keynote Speakers

ICIAP 2024 will feature a distinguished lineup of keynote speakers, including:

- Prof. Antonio Robles-Kelly, University of California, Berkeley
- Prof. Sabine Süsstrunk, University of Geneva
- Prof. Luc Van Gool, KU Leuven

Call for Papers

ICIAP 2024 is currently accepting submissions for papers on all aspects of image analysis and processing. The deadline for submission is January 15, 2024. Authors are encouraged to submit their original and unpublished research work.

Conference Program

The ICIAP 2024 conference program will include:

- Technical sessions

- Keynote speeches
- Workshops and tutorials
